

ABSTRACT:

A control arrangement for an illuminating system of a motor vehicle has a control unit (4). The control unit (4) detects the activation of different light functions (ABL, FL).

According to the detected light function (ABL, FL), the control unit (4) controls an adjusting device (6) of a headlight range adjusting system for adjusting an illumination of the surroundings of the motor vehicle.

(Figure)